FOREWORD

"Life leaps like a geyser for those who drill through the rocks of inertia."
Alexis Carrel.

The Stockbridge School of Agriculture has started to drill this hole for the graduating Class of 1963. It will be up to the students using what they have learned in the last two years to break through this rock of inertia.

The staff of Stosag presents this yearbook to the Class of 1963. In it fond memories will be sacredly kept for years to come for all students.

Think of this book as your starting place in life and cherish it always.

DEDICATION

The class of 1963 feels honored to dedicate this the 45th edition of their yearbook "Stosag" to such an outstanding and deserving person as Mr. Robert B. Bruce.

Mr. Bruce received his B.S. in Animal Husbandry at the University of Connecticut in 1947 and his M.S. in Animal & Dairy Husbandry at the University of Vermont in 1961.

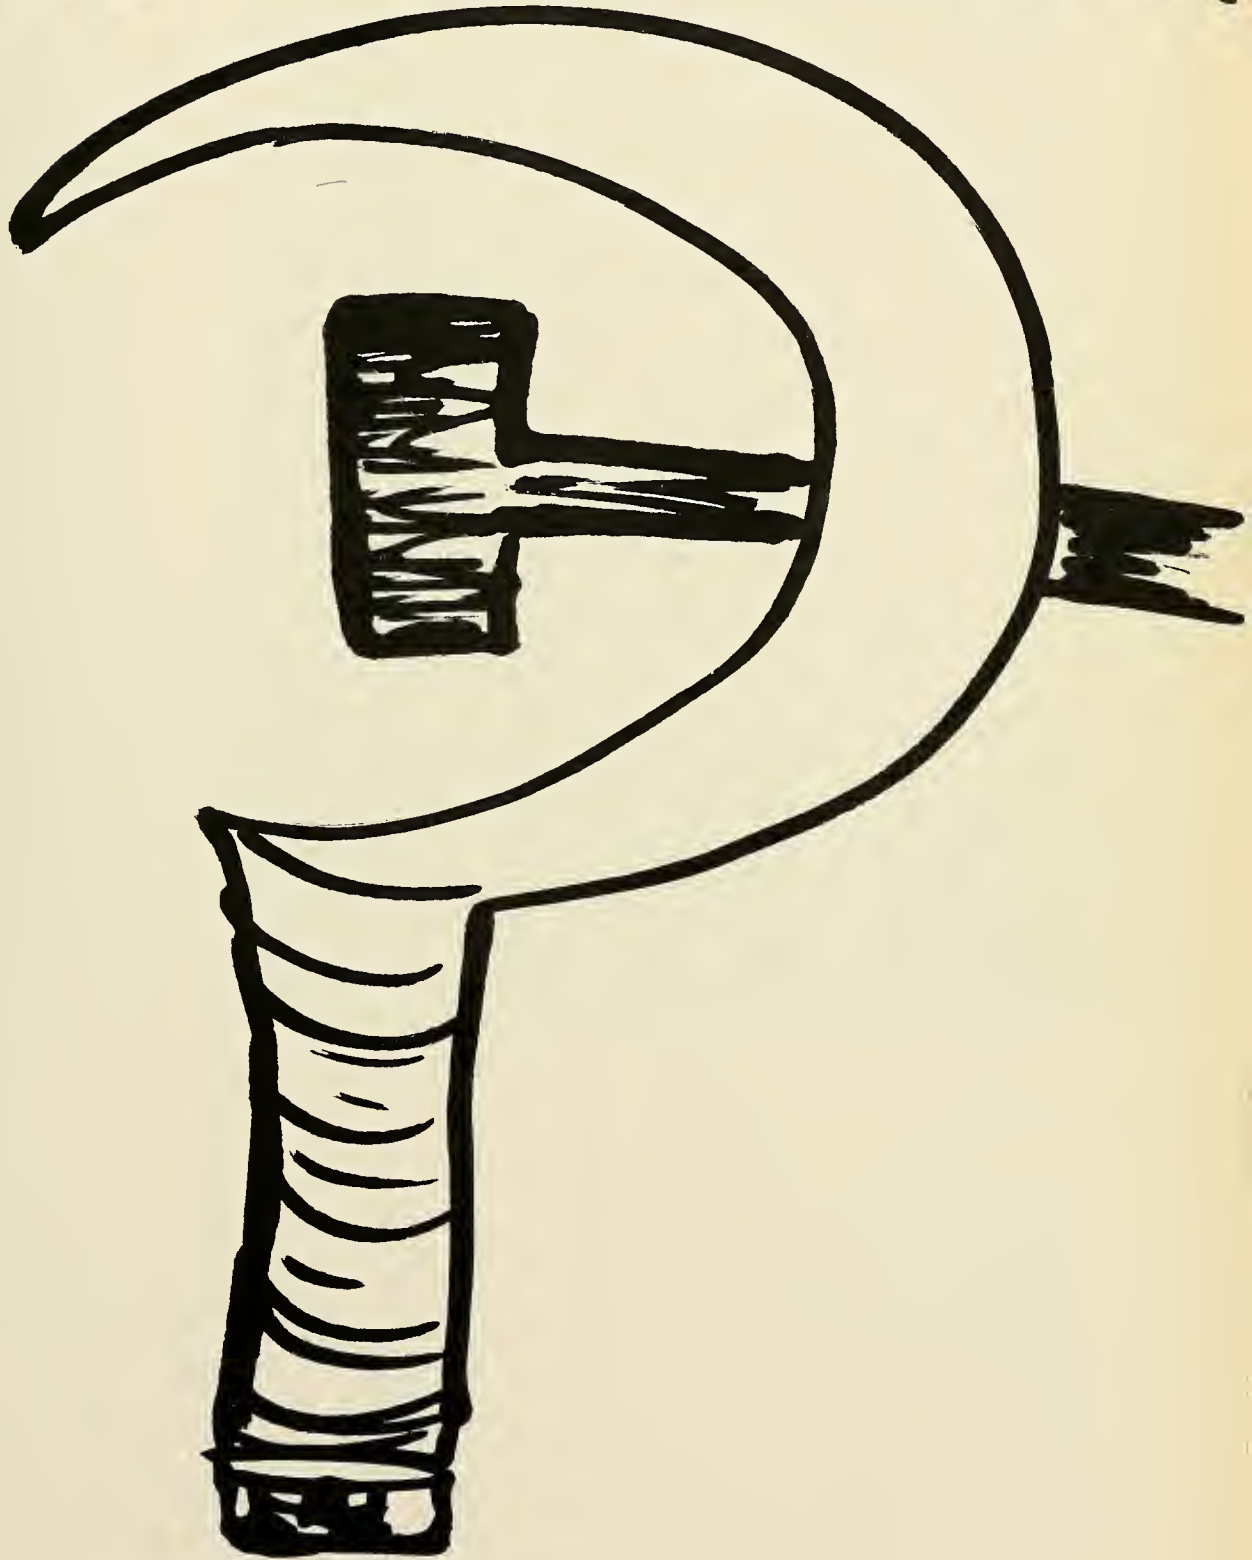

As Assistant Professor of Dairy & Animal Science at the Stockbridge School of Agriculture, Mr. Bruce has become well liked to all students. He has been able to convey to students his genuine interest in them and the school.

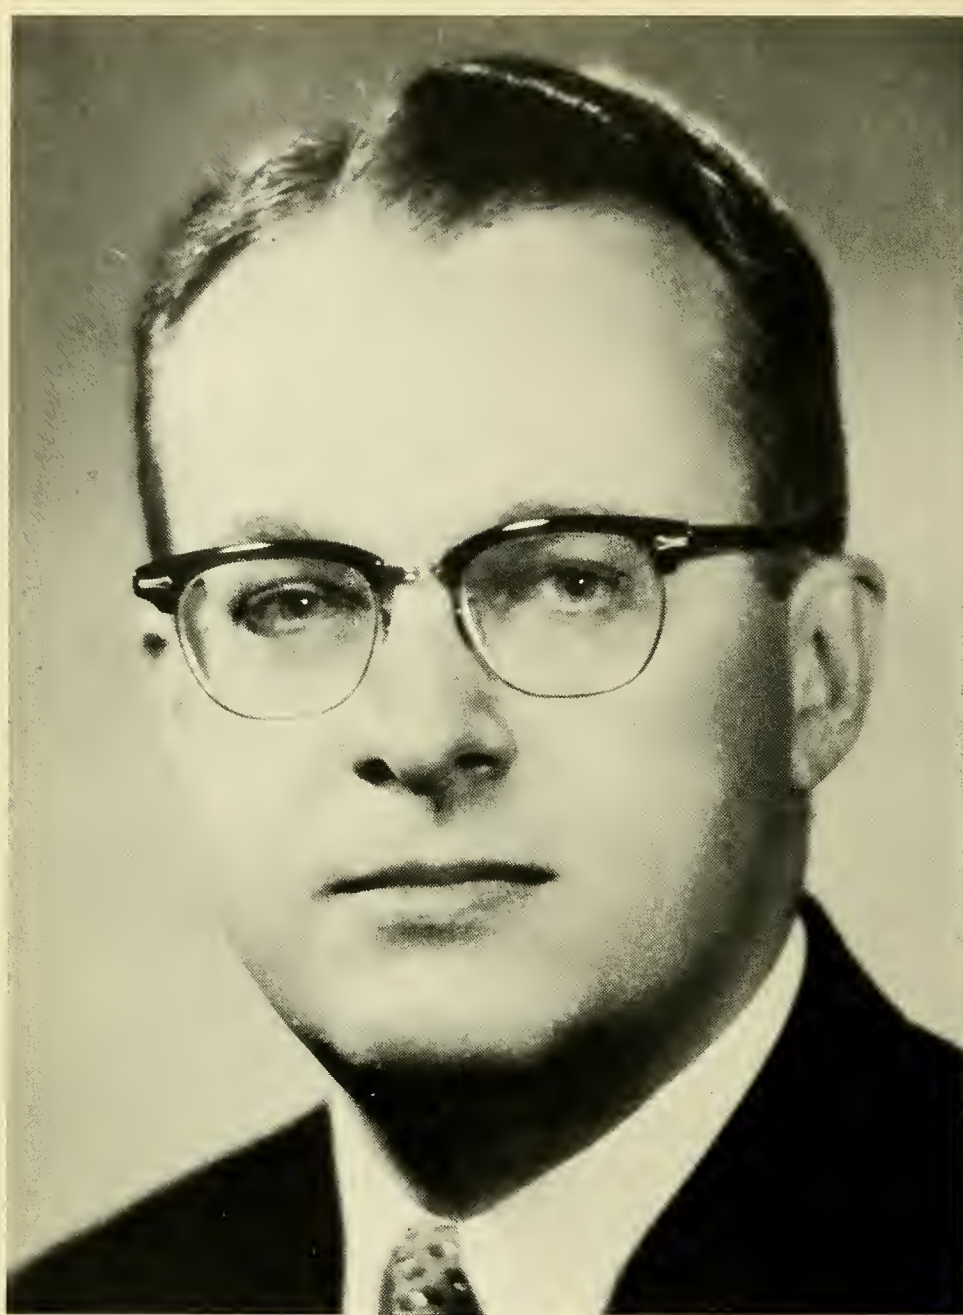

Many professors are through for the day when the five o'clock bell rings, but Mr. Bruce has a greater interest in Stockbridge. He serves as advisor to the Animal Science Club & STOSO the Stockbridge Service Organization.

The Class of 1963 will miss Mr. Bruce as they graduate this May. He and his lessons will never be wholly forgotten.

Administration

PRESIDENT
John W. Lederle

To the Graduates:

I am especially proud to extend by congratulations to all members of this year's graduating class. The Stockbridge School commencement is integrally a part of the University's Centennial Year observance, and I would ask all of you to share the sense of accomplishment that the entire University community can justly feel at this great transitional year in its history.

As we look to the future, we must remember and honor the worthy past, a past in which the Stockbridge School has made contributions to our society and our economy in as large a measure as other divisions of the University.

As you approach your new mission as specialists in important professional fields, I ask that you always recall, particularly with each new success that you attain, the School and the faculty whose commitment to the success of our students has contributed significantly to the building of a distinguished alumni body.

In wishing you all the best in your new careers, I look forward, at the same time, to hearing of the accomplishments that the Class of 1963 will certainly sustain.

John W. Lederle
President

PROVOST

Message for STOSAG

I am happy to send greetings to the 1963 Yearbook. The work of the Stockbridge School has always been an important part of the University and in recent years is becoming even more significant. Your academic work combines appropriate portions of theoretical and practical experience. I am thoroughly convinced that any society which does not pay proper attention to the practical side of things is heading for trouble. The University of Massachusetts is proud of the fact that members of the Stockbridge School do not apologize for keeping their feet on the ground while they are learning.

Best wishes to each member of the Class of 1963.

Gilbert L. Woodside
Provost

DEAN AND DIRECTOR
Arless A. Spielman

In a democracy, progress is largely determined by the quality of leadership available and developed within the large body of population. Stockbridge graduates have established an outstanding and enviable record of leadership in business, industry and agriculture as well as public affairs.

Not education in the abstract, but education for action. That is the purpose of the Stockbridge School so firmly established by its founders, students and faculty.

I am extremely proud of my association with the School, and I look forward to its continued growth and development under the able leadership of Director Jeffrey.

DIRECTOR
Fred P. Jeffery

It has been a pleasure to work with members of the Class of 1963. Academic performance has been above average and school affairs were better organized than ever before.

John W. Gardner, President of the Carnegie Foundation, is the author of the following quotation—"The society which scorns excellence in plumbing because plumbing is a humble activity, and tolerates shoddiness in philosophy because philosophy is an exalted activity, will have neither good plumbing nor good philosophy. Neither its pipes nor its theories will hold water." Stockbridge emphasizes the practical and in this sense Dr. Gardner's statement has meaning for us.

You should be proud of your dedication to your vocation, whether it be plants or animals or some type of service activity.

I hope that Stockbridge has enriched your philosophy of life.

Lewis H. Howes, Animal Science: "This report makes Lewis look superior."

Robert A. Johnson, Animal Science: "Many nights he worked very late in order to get the hay in—never a complaint."

J. Fred Schmidt, Arboriculture: "Mr. Schmidt, in our opinion, has excellent potential in this field."

Leo F. Cormier, Dairy Technology: "His work this summer was very satisfactory. We would hire him again."

L. Stephen Hutchinson, Dairy Technology: "The kind of a man a business would like to employ."

Charles E. Naff, Floriculture: "This boy has much in his favor. He should be encouraged to earn his B.S. and then go on for graduate work. We would enjoy having him with us."

Alfred C. Weber, Floriculture: "He has a responsible position as designer manager awaiting him."

William G. Tremblay, Food Distribution: "He is the best—sorry I couldn't give him more training."

Edmund L. Ciampolillo, Food Management: "An exceptionally fine worker, fast, quick thinking, and reliable."

Ralph R. Romkey, Food Management: "We found Mr. Romkey to be an exceptionally fine young man, and feel that he would be an asset to any organization."

The purposes of the organization are associated with people of similar interests and opportunities to listen to ideas and advice on items of current interests in the total field of Poultry Science.

Highlights of the year's activities were movies on various phases of agriculture, a lecture by Mr. Roger Chouinard of the Veterinary Science Department, and the traditional Poultry Club Banquet.

The Stockbridge Student Senate of 1962—1963 had a very successful year due to the fact that it was made up of freshmen students with a great interest in the Stockbridge School of Agriculture.

With this and their combined cooperation the year held many a vigorous debate, and the formation of many committees.

The Sno-Ball Dance, February 9, was a colorful and exciting event for many due to the hard work and careful planning of the Senate's committee.

The Progress Banquet, March 4, was a great success. It was a breathtaking time for all as trophies and awards were given out. Everyone enjoyed their plentiful meal of chicken.

With the large number of freshmen in the Senate this year it is hoped that the good works this year will be carried on in the year to come.

The Senate wishes to thank Dr. Fox, their advisor, and its members for their cooperation throughout the year.

To start the ball rolling at the beginning of this year a contest was held between the Senior and Freshmen class. This contest consisted of events in "tree climbing", "rope throwing", "foot locking", and "cross-cut sawing". Although the Senior class was greatly outnumbered; their determination and togetherness enabled them to overcome this handicap and easily win the contest.

Meetings were held on the fourth Thursday of each month, led by President, Thomas Duffy; Secretary-Treasurer, John Schmidt; and Advisor, Professor Gordon S. King. These meetings were supplemented with guest speakers who helped to provide us with a broader background in the fields of Arboriculture and Park Management.

For the first time in 12 years Prof. King lost a bet to the Senior class and this bet was paid off by him with pie ala mode and coffee at the University Faculty Club. Because of this and many other pleasant experiences over these 2 years, we feel our class will always be remembered by him.

The clubs activities were high-lighted by a party sponsored by the Freshmen class at the end of the year.

The Animal Husbandry Club is an organization whose main purpose is to promote the improvement and increase the interest among students of Animal Science. The club is composed of Stockbridge and University Students and is open to active members who are interested in the field of Animal Science.

Meetings are held on the second Wednesday of each month and are highlighted by speakers discussing different phases of Agriculture. Professor Robert Bruce, club officers, and club members plan the programs consisting of movies, guest speakers and entertainment.

The major activity sponsored by the club is the Little International Livestock Show which is held annually in the spring. The club also sponsors a steak fry, held as the last get together of the year.

HORTICULTURE SHOW

This year was the fiftieth anniversary of the Horticultural Show at the University of Massachusetts commemorating one hundred years of horticulture.

The Cage was transformed into a fabulous display of individual gardens and tables of beautiful flower arrangements.

The center of attraction was a large Bell Tower surrounded by a colorful mural with a large exotic arrangement at the side.

The show was attended by 15,000 visitors, making it a tremendous success. This of course could not have been possible without the enthusiastic spirit of all the students who participated.

SNOW BALL DANCE

The 1963 SnoBall Dance was held in the spacious and beautifully decorated ballroom of the Student Union. Everyone enjoyed themselves to the fullest, dancing to the music of Jimmy Martin and his Orchestra.

After the Grand March the evening was highlighted with the crowning of the Queen and her court. A special event of the evening was an accordion player, Lewis Howes, who played a few pieces during the half.

As the dance drew to a close the couples left into the clear night with the music and joy still dancing within themselves.

PROGRESS BANQUET

"It looks like a night club." "Is this really the Student Union."

These are but a few of the remarks heard at the ninth annual Progress Banquet, March 4, 1963.

The ballroom was gayly decorated with several floral arrangements, round tables, dim lights, candelabra and exotic dinner music.

The Student Union Catering Services under much pressure prepared and served a meal which the likeness they have never seen. Much thanks is to go to Mrs. Narnatonis and her staff.

Traditionally Dean Jeffrey announced the members of Lear. Twenty-seven members of the senior class were proud to share these honors. Freshmen who made the deans list were honored for their academic achievements.

Athletic awards were presented to:

Michael Langone	Soccer's Most Valuable Player
Charles Mariglia	Rifle's Most Valuable Player
James Gilligan	Basketball's Most Valuable Player

Stoso highlighted a good portion of the evening's festivities. The new Freshmen membership to Stoso was announced and each new member received his pin. This year for the first time Stoso introduced two new awards, The Outstanding Senior Award, and the Outstanding Professor Award. The recipient of these awards were:

Rone R. Medeiros	Outstanding Senior
Gordon S. King	Outstanding Professor

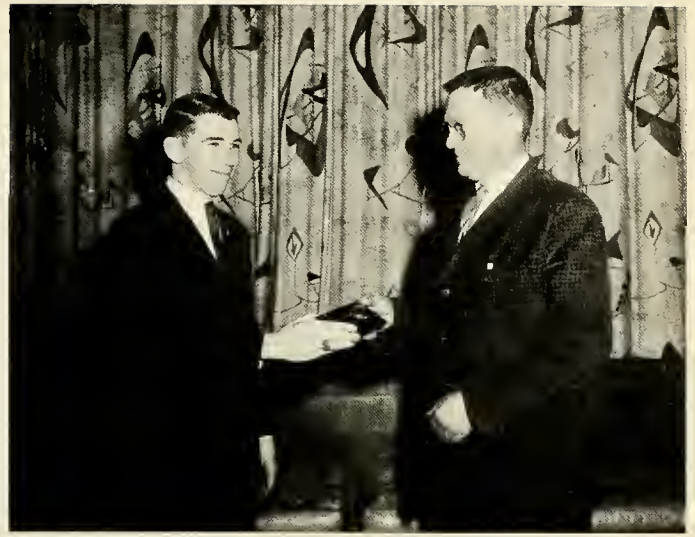

Miss Joan Phipps, editor of Stosag made the dedication of the 1963 Stosag. This year's book was dedicated to Mr. Robert Bruce of the Animal Science Department.

An enjoyable evening was certainly had, as it proved beyond the expectations of all.

The show consists of the showing of beef, sheep, swine, and horses.

The purpose of the show is to acquaint the students with the general knowledge of the time, effort, and technique needed to fit an animal for showing.

The students spent a tremendous amount of time and effort in fitting and training their animals in preparation for the show.

The judge's placings on show day are based on 50% showmanship and 50% on fitting of the animal.

Stockbridge started its first season of soccer this year with marked success. With Coach Steve Kosakowski showing us the basic fundamentals we learned fast and showed great team effort. This year's Freshmen will make next year's team even better.

We would like to thank Coach Steve Kosakowski for his help and patience with us this year. Because of his leadership and great effort Mike Langone was awarded Most Valuable Player Trophy.

BASKETBALL

After a slow start Stockbridge won their last five games in a row, which showed a great team effort and promise of a better season next year. The great effort done in leading the team by Captain Jim Gilligan showed why he was chosen the Most Valuable Player. A team supper was held at the Grist Mill in which the University Freshmen Coach, John Leaman, was guest. The team at this time elected captains Jerry McCarthy and John Halunen for next year's team.

The team wishes to thank Coach Richard Berquist who gave his help in showing them the basic fundamentals in good team work.

RIFLE TEAM

1962-1963 is the 5th year for the Rifle Team. These first five years have been very successful thanks to the fine coaching of Colonel John Marchant. The boys have a great admiration for Col. Marchant and it shows in their fine team efforts.

The Team Officers this year were: President, Charles Miraglia; Vice-President, Steven Pyenson; Secretary-Treasurer, Richard Wehren; Executive Officer, Warren Weed, Jr.; Team Captain, James Mitchell.

The boys have 16 matches this year with 2 remaining to shoot. The totals so far stand at 8 wins, 4 losses, with 3 postal matches unconfirmed. The big one which remains is a shoulder-to-shoulder with Dartmouth. The boys are really looking forward to this one, it may, once again, give them a successful year against the ivy-league contingent.

A top score of 1362 was short this year, showing the best team effort so far. This we know is a show of better things to come.

Good luck, boys.

ALPHA TAU GAMMA

ALPHA TAU GAMMA fraternity was founded at the University of Massachusetts in 1919. We are the only fraternity founded by and exclusively for Stockbridge School of Agriculture Students. We are proud that we have been the closest tie between the 2 year students and the 4 year students at the University.

The Brothters of A.T.G. have made long strides in the past years. With a membership of only 40 we have done fairly well in competition with the larger houses. Even though we didn't win a prize this year we were very proud of our Statue of Liberty snow sculpture which gained much recognition in many newspapers, not only for the house but the Stockbridge School.

Socially, the green and gold has shown itself to be a true social fraternity with our frequent parties and exchange suppers. The highlight of the year was our Pledge Formal held on March 16th at the Chateau Harmony. We had the biggest turnout of Alumni ever.

With our Alumni rejuvenated there is much to expect in the years ahead.
